

Raising public awareness of the importance of bees and apicultural products has an important role in the effort to protect bees and beekeeping sector.

Therefore, the Republic of Slovenia, on the initiative of the Slovenian Beekeepers' Association, proposes to the United Nations that May 20th is declared a WORLD BEE DAY.

- The importance of bees for sustainable agriculture and ensuring food security in the world
- The importance of bees for the environment
 - Endangerment of pollinators
